

AUGUSTIN, Joseph-Ange

Saint-Dié 1763 – ?p.1810

Younger brother of Jean-Baptiste-Jacques Augustin and of Georges, dit Dubourg. He commenced his career near his native town, with religious paintings dating from 1788. A miniature from 1792 is known. Suspected of involvement in the murder of Louis-Charles-Toussaint Hugo de Spitzemberg in Saint-Dié in 1793, he fled to Germany and was recorded in Baden-Württemberg until 1803. Hitherto known only as a painter and miniaturist (of quality “bien inférieure aux oeuvres de son frère”), two pastels dated 1810 came to light in 2017; it remains uncertain if he used the medium before 1800.

Bibliography

Pappe 2015

Pastels

J.1163.101 Homme en habit noir, avec son chien;
& pendant: J.1163.102 dame en robe bleue, tenant une rose, pstl, 49x36.5, sd ← “Joseph Ange Augustin pinxit 1810” (Billingshurst, Bellmans, 4.XI.2017, Lot 194 repr.) φ

