

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition

BUSSY RABUTIN, Michel-Celse- Roger de

Paris 1669–1739

Second son of comte Roger de Bussy Rabutin, he was appointed évêque de Luçon in 1723, and joined the Académie française in 1732. He frequented the salon of Mme de Tencin and was associated with the marquise de Rouvroy. An account of their platonic romance appeared in 1768, and suggests that the abbé “taught...to paint in crayons...” in order to support the impoverished but noble lady.

Bibliography

The Scots magazine, 1.vi.1768