

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition

GH

fl. London 1769–70

Advertisement in the Public advertiser on 16.X.1769 and subsequently (until .XI.1770:

PORTRAITS neatly painted in Crayons at no more than one Guinea. Those Ladies and Gentlemen pleased to favour him may see (if desired) of his Performance, which he hopes will save him the Trouble of much speaking, and yet for the Want of Acquaintance is obliged to take this Method to address the impartial Public.

Letters directed for G. H. at No. 105, Fetter Lane, Fleet-street, will be received, and immediate Attendance given.

He teaches Ladies and Gentlemen by an easy Way the pleasing Art of Drawing and Painting in Crayons. Also wanted a Youth of genteel Education and Address as an Apprentice to an Academy. A Premium is expected.