JARDINIER, Claude-Donat

Paris 1726–1771

Engraver, miniaturist and pastellist; he was also a fine musician, playing several instruments and able to sing with as much taste as he danced (according to Boily). He was a pupil of Ph. Lebas, Dupuis and Laurent Cars. Apart from an engraving after a Ducreux pastel (Moreau), he was engaged to engrave the Van Loo portrait of Mlle Clairon as Médée but it seems dismissed by the subject after a spirited exchange.
