

SICARD, Jean-Pierre-Antoine

Toulouse c.1718 – ?Bordeaux c.1796

The author of this pastel is probably the father of the miniaturist Sicardi (q.v.). Himself the son of a painter, Pierre Sicard, Jean-Pierre-Antoine Sicard, de Toulouse, married a Marie-Anne Scudier from Marseille on 30.IV.1743 (dispenses, f° 122), just three months before Sicardi's birth in Avignon (Saint Didier) on 4.I.1743. The boy's parrain was Louis-François de La Baume, comte de Suze, from an influential ecclesiastical family. Sicard's wife's name is spelled Sequedir in the parish register of Saint-Georges, Chalon-sur-Saône, where, on 23.IX.1754, their one month old daughter Catherine was buried. Sicard was recorded at Toulon in 1759, and later at Viviers (an altarpiece sd Sicard Tolozanus, 1764 at the évêché), Avignon and Bordeaux, where he is thought to have settled. Some portraits in oil are also known. A session of the Bordeaux académie (13.XII.1773) included "M. Sicard père, peintre présentement à Bordeaux où il fixe sa résidence".
